

Published based on Barcelona - What You Should See In This Location On The Mediterranean

Barcelona - What You Should See In This Location On The Mediterranean

As the second largest city in Spain, Barcelona is a hub for various facets of Spanish culture, including the arts, science, fashion, and entertainment. With a known 2000-year history, Barcelona offers a rich and complex vacation experience for those seeking a vacation with a little bit of everything: culture, nightlife, beaches, and so on. Just remember that you will need a valid passport in order to travel to Barcelona. Services like expedited passport name changes are all available online.

You Will Need A Passport To Get There

No matter what issue you are facing with your passport, online services can help you out. For example, name changes are for those who just got married or divorced. Other services include passport renewal for expired passports, passport replacement for stolen, lost, or damaged passports, and even passport cards service, an inexpensive alternative for those looking to travel by land or sea to countries near the US.

Barri Gotic - The Gothic Quarter

If you are looking for the perfect spot to start exploring, check out Barri Gotic, or the Gothic Quarter. This historic section of the city is packed with old buildings. Some date back to Medieval times, while others are from a time when the Romans occupied the city. Exploring on foot is the best option for exploring the Gothic Quarter, as many beautiful old churches and big squares are reachable this way, not to mention most of the roads are too thin for cars. Another good spot for a stroll is the walkway that runs along the Mediterranean Sea.

El Palau de la Musica Catalana - Palace of Catalan Music

Barcelona has several official UNESCO World Heritage Sites, and one of the most loved is El Palau de la Musica Catalana, or the Palace of Catalan Music. Lluís Domènech i Montaner, a famous local architect, designed the building. This breathtaking structure is as beautiful on the outside as it is on the inside, full of intricate details, gorgeous colors, and more. The Church of the Sacred Family, or El Temple Expiatori de la Sagrada Família, is an impressive yet beautiful Gothic-style building, as well as another UNESCO World Heritage Site. Be sure to allot enough time to take in the exterior and the interior.

Museu Nacional d'Art de Catalunya

Barcelona is full of museums, and there are some that stand out from the rest. Museu Nacional d'Art de Catalunya contains hundreds of pieces of art spanning a huge time period: from Medieval times to the 19th century. The City History Museum, aka El Museu d'Historia de la Ciutat, is another good spot. This museum will cover the two millennia that Barcelona has been in existence.

Don't Forget To Try The Food!

Barcelona is known for its gastronomic experience, i.e., the food. That being said, Barcelona is full of great places to eat, and the locals know the best ones. Don't be afraid to ask for pointers! Simply asking for advice can lead you to the best restaurants with the best prices.

Barcelona is the type of place that is not easy to forget. One thing that is easy to forget is your passport. Before time starts to run out, make sure your passport is valid and ready, including have the correct name on it. Expedited passport name changes Application are available if the name needs to be changed. Other services like US passport cards and passport renewals are also online.

You can also find this article published on Barcelona - What You Should See In This Location On The Mediterranean, and on the tag pages palau de la musica catalana, unesco world heritage, unesco world heritage sites.