Brussels - A City Known For Its Gorgeous Architecture, Omnipresent Artwork, And Belgian Beer

Brussels is a city famous for its beautiful buildings, omnipresent art, and of course, its beer. As the capital of Belgium, it's the hub for Belgian culture and history. Brussels is the crossroads for many different cultures thanks to its location, and each of these cultures blends together to create an amazing sort of vacation experience. Just remember that if you're thinking of taking a vacation to anywhere outside of the United States, you'll need a passport. Go online to US Passport Now to get your passport orders started.

The traditional procedure for getting a passport was filled with endless lines and time delays and was quite a frustrating process. With online agencies available from the convenience of your own home computer, you can get a passport expedited or have any other passport need met quickly and securely.

The Grande Place is regarded as one of the most beautiful town squares in all of Europe. Surrounding the Square are 300 year old buildings that transport you to another time. During the spring and summer, after the sun goes down, the buildings light up and music is played. It's truly spectacular, and it's something you definitely do not want to miss.

The Bruparck is a shopping and entertainment center. There is so much to see and do, that a trip here can take up more than half a day. Inside Bruparck is a reconstructed Belgian village, where you can actually experience what it was like way back then. It also features one of the largest movie complexes in Europe, as well as a water park. Both are good options for sunny summer days spent exploring the city.

Art lovers have many spectacles to enjoy in Brussels but perhaps one of the most famous is the statue Manneken Pis. This is a statue of, shall we say a boy relieving himself after enjoying too much of the local beer. This statue provides variety throughout the year as there are times it is dressed in costumes so you really know exactly what you are going to see. A futuristic theme is completed in the Atomium which is a statue symbolizing a molecule and dedicated to progress. You can enjoy an elevator ride to the top of the sphere of this statue and you will be treated to a breathtaking view of the city. Much more is provided for the art lover in visits to the Musees Royaux d'Art et d'Histoire art museum and the Musees Royaux des Beaux Arts de Belgique. These contain works of art from all over the world.

Since Belgium beer is known around the world, you will not want to miss the opportunity to sample some of the different types of beer brewed here. The brewpubs found here provide a great opportunity to enjoy a tasteful beer while also enjoy a traditional dish of frites or, as we call them in the United States, French fries. They do go quite well with the beer.
