Caribbean Luxury Cruises - Meeting New People, Experiencing Places, And Living Life

If you want a vacation that literally has it all, a cruise should be your vacation choice. This is an opportunity for an experience that is all inclusive combining travel, dining, activities and accommodations all for one price. Many feel this is the easiest, most cost efficient way to vacation. While there are many cruises available traveling to all corners of the world, a good place to start is the Caribbean. This tropical paradise provides a close to home experience and a passport card is all that is necessary so go online and download a U.S. passport application so you can get started.

Barbados is one of the most popular Caribbean cruise destinations. The local shops provide an opportunity for duty-free shopping for those who love to shop and the adventure seeker will be attracted to the opportunity for scuba diving, cave exploration and wildlife reserves that promise to thrill the visitor. Your family will have the opportunity to see natural wildlife in the Barbados Wildlife Reserve. Green Monkeys, Red-Footed Tortoises and a variety of tropical birds make this natural sanctuary their home and wait to welcome the visitors.

Another port that will interest those who seek interaction with native wildlife is Costa Rica. This small country is only .25% of the world's territory but contains much in the way of wildlife and forestry. A variety of species of monkeys, more than 800 species of birds and 2,000 types of plants make Costa Rica their home and Tortuguero National Park provides the traveler an opportunity to view many of them. The name actually means "full of turtles" so you can be certain to meet numerous species of not only turtles, but also sloths and the spiny-tailed iguana. The world's fastest lizard is one of the more prominent inhabitants of this National Park and a real treat to see for the wildlife lover in you.

Cozumel, an island located just off the coast of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula, offers a different set of experiences. This location is world-famous for its snorkeling and diving as well as ancient Mayan ruins. One of the famous attractions in Cozumel is the opportunity to dive 100 feet below the surface in a 48 passenger submarine. Glass-bottomed boats also offer an incredible chance to meet some of the aquatic inhabitants of Cozumel's reefs.

Aruba is another tiny island off of the coast of Venezuela. It's also famous for its spectacular diving, and much of its popularity comes from the impressive number of underwater ship wrecks that are available to explore. The world's largest ship wreck is also located here, and getting to swim through its remains puts you in an encounter with tons of species of fish and other wildlife. The reefs are also and remember: you can see all these places and more with a passport card!

So much awaits you in the Caribbean islands and cruising is the best way to visit this island paradise. You will not have to invest in a passport because you and your family will only need a passport card application to enjoy this adventure. The first thing to do is go online and download a pass port application, get it filled out, submit it and then just pick your island and then your cruise line.
