If you are thinking about traveling to Denmark, one of the greatest destinations you can visit is Copenhagen. One of the things that makes this such a great place to visit is the blend of city life amongst the historical intimate local setting. Since this area is the connection between the mainland of Europe and Scandinavia, there are many different cultures that exist here which adds a very intricate sense of intrigue.

Many people prefer to get their passports online because it is faster and easier. Also, you can choose from different processing speeds and have your passport delivered quicker than normal. Traditional passport services will take up to two months to process your application, however with online passport replacement, you can get your documents in as little as 24 hours if you desire.

Copenhagen is split into many districts, and depending on what sort of vacation experience you're looking to have, each one has a different personality. Indre By is the downtown portion of Copenhagen. Also referred to as Centrum and The Medieval City, it's the historical center of this city. The northern suburbs comprise another district where there is much to do and see, such as the world's oldest running theme park and the world's largest open-air museum. Trendy Vesterbro is full of cafes and bars.

The Little Mermaid statue is one of the most popular destinations in Copenhagen. Hans Christian Andersen is the author of the story that Disney produced and made popular, and this statue was erected in order to memorialize the famous mermaid. Biking or walking is an excellent way to explore Copenhagen, and this statue is a good place to stop along your adventure. On the subject of fantasy, Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen is a theme park dedicated to fantasy. This is the previously mentioned oldest running theme park on earth. Tivoli is perfect if you're looking to just stroll along the beautifully lit gardens or if you want feel the adrenaline on one of their crazy rollercoasters.

Amalienborg Palace is the home of the royal family. You are able to explore some of the rooms in the palace, and there is also a little museum on site that's interesting to explore. Another interesting way to get a little historical background is the National Museum. This museum is dedicated to presenting the history of Denmark. The museum transports you back all the way to the humble pagan beginnings of the Danish culture and brings you back to the present through the mediums of light, sound, and visuals.

Stroget is the longest pedestrian street in the world, and the entire thing is lined with shops and such. You can find everything from affordable little shops to big brand name boutiques to browse. Kronborg Castle, one of the most spectacular things to see in Denmark, is the very castle - Elsinore - where Shakespeare's Hamlet took place.
