Explore world cultures today with Culture Briefings

Culture Briefings give you current, in-depth information found in no other single source on the customs, culture, traditions and ways of life of people in cultures around the world. In today's increasingly smaller world, understanding the ways of the world's other peoples is an essential skill. And the Geotravel Research Center's Culture Briefings will help you develop that expertise.

Culture Briefings, available for immediate downloading in pdf format, help you figure out the natives by penetrating below a society's surface to reveal the customs and established ways of life in a particular country.

Culture Briefings show the enduring qualities of a people as well as their present preoccupations. They analyze a country's culture and show why things are the way they are. They delve into a people's character, values, beliefs and customs. You discover the people's home, family and religious life as well as how they make a living, educate their children and spend their leisure time. You find out about the culture's artistic endeavors and its political ways. And you learn of the problems the people face and how they handle them.

No other single publication gives you the information found in a Culture Briefing. Published by the Geotravel Research Center for a growing list of nations, these briefings are essential tools for leisure and business travelers, researchers, teachers and students, providing current, in-depth information that helps to understand the customs and ways of people in the world's cultures.
