How To Access Expedited United States Passport Renewal

The world over, valid travel documents are a must for one to enter another country. In US, renewing of passports is done for those aged 18 years and above. If the document reached its expiry date more than 5 years ago, an application will have to be done for a new one. Sometimes, circumstances may arise that require one to travel at very short notice, which they cannot do without current travel documents. It then becomes necessary to go for expedited passport renewal services.

Timeline

There are three ways one can go about getting accelerated renewal. The first option is by mail and the second is sending an application at a regional office. The third and fastest one is using the services of a private expediting services provider. You can get passport pages faster too.

Postal Service

To make the application by mail, one needs to send the requirements as Form DS-82 which has been duly filled in and completed as well as the necessary payment. This needs to be sent in a padded envelope and it should be marked with the word expedite in block letters.

Location

The second alternative is to make an application for expedition to a regional agency. This option is advisable if the document is needed in two weeks, which is the time it takes to get the renewed document if an application is made this way. The first step is to call the national information center and request an appointment.

Agency

The other alternative is to expedite through a regional office. This is the best option if the document is needed within a fortnight. This is the time it takes to get it if it is renewed this way. It starts with calling the National Passport Information Center and getting an appointment.

DS-82

The service is automatic and is on all day every day of the week. It can get busy during holidays when many people are trying to renew their passports so that they can travel. Upon being given an appointment, you need to go with the completed Form DS 82, the fees, the expired document and photos. The document will then be renewed within two weeks. The contacts and locations for the passport centers for every region can be found online.

Private Service

With this expedition option, the process can be accelerated so that the document is available in a few days or even the next day. The shorter the processing time one requests, the higher the fee. It is however worth the extra cost in emergencies.

A private expeditor can speed up the process and shorten it to a week or even the next day but this does cost. The faster the expedition needs to be done, the higher the costs. To be sure you will get your passport at the time it is needed, choose the service provider carefully. Check that their expedited U S passport renewal service is guaranteed. Check if complaints have been made about them and check also how long they have been in business. Sometimes all you need are new american passport pages.
