Options For An Overnight Fast Passport

People commonly run into problems with their documentation when they plan to travel outside of the country. It's also common for individuals to struggle with last minute plans, which can often make things more difficult. In situations like this, individuals find themselves wanting to know more about their options for overnight passport delivery.

Documentation

These days, there are various ways to get your documentation, such as through the mail or in person. However, a lot will also depend heavily on what your goals are and how much you can afford. Things will also depend on several circumstances, such as the amount of time that's passed since your last passport was issued.

Options

People who have more than a month's time to wait will sometimes use the standard processing option, since it's generally the least expensive. Even so, this can take four to six weeks to go through. Having the process expedited is also a possibility for some people, which will require an additional fee. Having your documents expedited will take about two to three weeks to process.

Expedited Processing

Those who are able to get their processing expedited may choose to pay a small fee in order to get overnight shipping. This can be a great way to reduce the amount of time that it will take to arrive. Individuals also need to make an appointment with the Regional Passport Agency if they need a book in less than two weeks or under four weeks for a foreign visa. You can do the same if you have a damaged passport.

Exceptions

At times, certain factors may be involved that may result in an individual needing to visit an agency in person. For example, this usually applies to people who have a passport that was issued 15 years before and when they were under 16. It also applies to those who are under 16 currently, as well as when it comes to books that have become lost or damaged.

Necessary Documents

A special form will need to be filled out and signed in person for those who aren't able to apply through the mail. The individual will need to have two appropriately sized photos, a photo ID and proof of their citizenship. People who qualify for mail-in methods will need to fill out a different form from the one that's needed for on-site visits.

Quick Delivery

There are times when individuals need their book sooner, especially when it comes to last-minute plans. However, in most cases, it is possible for individuals to achieve this by using an agency that deals with this matter. Naturally, this type of approach can cost more but people often prefer it due to the speedy processing provided.

Overnight Delivery

Those who choose to have their papers processed through a company will generally need to pay more as a result. However, this can be highly convenient for those who are applicable and need their documents within a 48 to 24-hour period. Many also provide overnight quick passport delivery as well, once the documents are in order. This process is similar if you are replacing a damaged passport.
