

Published based on Passports Renewal - Advice For Renewing A Passport By Mail Or In Person

Passports Renewal - Advice For Renewing A Passport By Mail Or In Person

The process for passports renewal can be completed through the mail by following the included steps below. In some cases, the passport will need to be renewed in person and so the information below will reflect both processes. Extenuating circumstances will warrant the need to apply in person rather than the mail option.

How To Apply

When applying by mail, the person who is applying needs to be able to check off each one of the following categories. The first is the previously held passport that is not damaged and the second is that the original card was issued after the individual was 16. The third is if the original card was issued within the past 15 years and finally the passport needs to be in the same name of the applicant. If the name is different, proof of name change documentation will be required. I feel that online passports is the way to go.

DS-82 Form

Additionally, if a person is a previous card holder from another country and is eligible to fill out a DS-82 form, they can apply by mail. The nifty thing about this fact is that this can be accomplished even if this is the first US passport card for the person. It is important to use a registered mail option when submitting this documentation so it can be traced.

US Citizens In Canada

In order to safely mail these items, it is a good idea to use a manila envelope to transport the documentation so it will not be folded. Also, US residents living in Canada can submit their applications by mail as well and send them to the address on the form. Security is the most important ingredient to have when performing a task such as this by mail.

US Citizens Abroad

When an individual resides outside of Canada or the US, they will need to visit the local US embassy to apply for passport documentation. Individuals who are behind on their child support payments may be delayed receiving or ultimately denied a passport. When an individual owes over 2500 dollars in child support, they will automatically be denied and required to pay the debt off before becoming eligible again.

DS-11 Form

Applying in person requires the individual to fill out a DS-11 form and not sign it until they have their meeting with the acceptance agent. During the meeting, the agent will announce when it is time to sign the documentation. In addition to the form, a social security number is required and individuals who cannot supply one or refuse to supply one will be denied a passport.

Required Documents

Additional information that is required for the process is proof of US citizenship in the form of a birth certificate or certificate of naturalization. Any paperwork submitted during the initial process will be returned to the applicant via US Mail. Upon being approved, the new passport will be sent with the other documentation to the address of the applicant.

The system that is designed for expedited passport renewal is in place to protect the individuals applying along with the authorities in charge. As long as the rules are followed, a person can obtain their renewed passport with no problem at all. One thing to remember is if the passport is needed right away, the applicant must renew it in person. I feel that online U S passports is the way to go.

You can also find this article published on Passports Renewal - Advice For Renewing A Passport By Mail Or In Person, and on the tag pages child support payments, Form, mail option, passport, process, renewing a passport.