

Published based on Renewing A Passport Made Simple

Renewing A Passport Made Simple

renewing a pasport is simple to do through the mail. There are some hurdles to pass though if you want this done. The one you have now must be in good enough shape to be read easily. It can not date back more than fifteen years, but you must date over sixteen years of age. Your current holding will also have to be in the same name as the one you are applying for. If not, you will have to provide documentation showing a legal change of name.

If these conditions can not all be met, you have to apply in person. When conditions are met, the first thing to do is get hold of Form DS-82 to replace your lost United States passport. You can get a copy online from the website of the State Department. They also allow it to be completed online. It can also be printed out for mailing along with some other necessary material.

Latest estimates are that the processing of received takes two to three weeks to review. Failure to fully complete documents by leaving out something critical like social security numbers can create lengthy delays. Place everything into an envelope that is reinforced.

Required submissions include the present passport. There also has to be a photo of the correct sized stapled into the appropriate spot for such on the application form. If a name has undergone change via marriage, the marriage certificate must be presented. For $60, the matter will be expedited. Checks should be to the U. S. State Department. You can also use money orders. Clearly print Expedite on the outside of the envelope you use for mailing. Send via overnight express.

It will help to use a system for delivery that is traceable. The post office can do this cheaply. Other carriers in the private sector will do likewise. The State department which has control of this recommends a Tyvek envelope for mailing. Any that are used should be strong.

To accomplish all this by mail, the applicant must have a United States address at which to get mail. This document can not be mailed outside the country. Citizens of the United States who dwell in foreign lands need to visit the embassy there to do all this. If they are in Canada, it can still go through the mail.

If all these standards are not reachable or when time is critical, the best method for obtaining this will be by contacting the Regional Passport Agency. Request the earliest appointment at the closest office. Do this if you will be going abroad within two weeks. This should also be resorted to when a visa is needed within four weeks.

renewing a pasport is now easier than ever. This is due in part to the fact that some of the work can now proceed online to replace you lost passport. The remainder can be sent by mail. The process will be accelerated by payment for expedited service. Next day mailings also cut time. For the fastest processing of all, apply in person.

You can also find this article published on Renewing A Passport Made Simple, and on the tag pages mail, mailing, passport, renewing a passport, social security numbers, united states passport.