Several Of The Earth's Greatest Fishing Locations

Anyone who knows a fisherman knows that they are always looking for a way to crank up their experience. While the normal week after week fishing excursion takes you to the familiar bodies of water in your own community, why not consider an exciting and rewarding international fishing trip? Websites have made US passports easy to get so there is no reason not to consider another country and perhaps even another type of fish.

Getting a passport used to be a very stressful ordeal but the internet has simplified the entire process. And now, fast pass port renewal can be quickly accomplished from the convenience of your own home computer. It doesn't get any easier than that!

When you think international fishing opportunities, Australia may be the very first place that comes to mind. Being an island of course means it is surrounded by great fishing. Carns, Queensland is one of the premier places if you have never managed to catch that illusive marlin. Considered by many to be the best fishing in the entire world, it takes first place on many fishermen's must-visit list.

The Christmas Islands are rich with fishing opportunities and are the reason many journey to this Central Pacific fishing area. Bonefish are abundant and many come to catch their fill but you can also lay into a trevally, billfish, tuna or wahoo so be ready and don't limit yourself. These islands provide the rare opportunity to avoid commercial fishing boats and tourists because the location is remote and secluded which is part of the reason the fishing is so unbelievably good.

Mexico, our southern neighbor, provides a variety of spectacular fishing locations. While you may immediately think of the ocean and the gulf, there are numerous rivers and lakes that offer the angler a great place to wet a line. One such lake is Baccarac Lake, a body of water that is 25 miles long and 5 miles wide and filled with large bass. The record bass caught at this location weighted in at 19.10 pounds. Another great location is Cabo San Lucas where many record breaking fish have been caught.

If you are interested in fishing for the exotic and unusual as well as the common sea life, perhaps you should consider traveling to Venezuela. The Amazon River flows through this South American country and provides a rare opportunity for fishermen to cast their lines for fish you will find no where else in the world. Some examples are the giant catfish and the Amazon Pellona.

Fishing can be an opportunity to relax and take it slow or get into an exciting, action-filled challenge with a large specimen; but whatever you seek, fishing international waters and exotic locations presents an upgraded fishing experience. You will need a passport to travel to some of the best places and remember that getting a U S passport is easy online.
