

Published based on Suggestions About US Passport Name Change

Suggestions About US Passport Name Change

It is seen many times that people undergo the legal procedure of surname and forename alteration for legitimate reasons. Marriages are the most universal reason for which women apply for the process of surname alteration. Apart from the marriage, there can be other reasons as well. Children can also apply for forename change in many cases. The passport name change is a legal process by which people around the globe keep their passport current. Many people believe a myth that this legal process might be tough but if you have all the required documents and a valid reason, this is considered to be easy.

Original Legal Documents

Whatever the reason an individual seeks the procedure of information alteration, they should consider some important points for fast processing. The first and the most important thing is to gather all the mandatory documents that should support the reason for this alteration. Apart from this, the applicant should also submit the copy of a certified marriage certificate or any other supporting document that can prove the reason for alteration.

To be on the safer side, many people do not like to take risk with their original documents as they might lose it. Hence, the best thing could be to send the certified photocopy for the original documents to the court for proving the reason for forename or surname alteration.

DS5504 Form

A forename or surname alteration in the ID also requires the applicant to send the DS5504 form to the Department of State. DS 5504 is the application form that needs to be filled out by the applicant who has the valid Passport but wants the editing of information. This form is easily available and can be downloaded online. Individuals must fill out this form before mailing the complete application for editing information on their Passport. There are different forms for expedited lost passport recovery services.

Personal Photo

As this legal process of surname/forename change is similar to that of a fresh application for a Passport, it is required for the applicants to send the two photos along with the complete application. Individuals can even take the consultation from some private service provider for better processing.

Mailing Process

It is also important to look for the reliable mailing company for secure delivery of your complete application to the Department of State. As the information you are sending is valuable and should not be misused, it is always good to choose the best company for the job.

Fee

The Department of State normally charges nominal fees for complete processing of the application. The processing might take a week. In case you need the application to be processed sooner, you can pay extra fees for quick processing.

The United States passport name change is an easy procedure and it is easily accomplished as long as you follow the instructions carefully. In case you are not comfortable with the instructions or processing of the application, you can hire a private professional consulting service. It is always better to trust the service company that holds a good record for processing the application for forename/surname alteration or for a similar process. Most companies can handle expedited lost us passports recovery services as well.

You can also find this article published on Suggestions About US Passport Name Change, and on the tag pages passport name change, safer side, valid passport.